“The No Boundaries Art Workshop exceeded my expectations. In addition to the outstanding instruction, you have crafted a wonderful, creative experience. The bagpiper, the Burns Supper, the excursion to the Holy Isle -- all the extra touches were nothing short of magical. Thank you!”

About Master Artist Marie Natale

Marie Natale started painting at the age of twelve, encouraged by a teacher who recognized her early potential. She developed her talent through high school then went on to receive a Masters degree in Art Education from Rowan University, beginning a lifelong love affair with creativity and art, which has manifested in a variety of achievements.

An early advocate of art education for children of all ages, Marie taught in the public school system for ten years, and won the acclaimed “Teacher of the Year Award.”

Marie designed and painted covers for Exit Zero Magazine in Cape May, and Ocean City Magazine in Ocean City, both located in New Jersey. Her work is published in “Splash 14- Best in Watercolor 2013 and Splash 17- Best in Watercolor 2016, North Light Books.

A Signature Member of the Noyes Museum in Galloway, Marie has been exhibited in and captured many awards for her watercolors both locally and on the National level. Marie was awarded the Gold Medal of Honor in Aquamedia by Audubon Artists Inc. in 2013.

Marie currently teaches watercolor privately at her home studio as well as at the Ocean City Art Center in Ocean City, Gloucester County, and Cape May, NJ, and at community centers and art guilds throughout the East Coast and abroad.

A signature member of both the New Jersey Watercolor Society and Philadelphia Watercolor Society, Marie goal in life is to use her talents to make the world a brighter place while continuing to share with others the joy that art has brought into her life. Marie works in her studio at home in South Jersey.

We are thrilled to welcome Master Artist Marie Natale to our No Boundaries Art Workshop® in Provence!
